UNIVERSITY

Even though it is break, the Speaking Bobcats of Ohio University are still hard at work. Eight students represented Ohio U at the OSU Holiday Frolic Speech and Debate Tournament.

Small, but mighty, the Bobcats (250.5 points) narrowly defeated Western Kentucky (247 points) to win the tournament sweepstakes. Tennessee State University (186.5 points) placed third.

In Pentathlon (students entered in 5 or more events) senior Dan Glaser placed first and teammate Jeremy Frazer (Sophomore) came in second.

The second half of this annual tournament weekend was held at Otterbein College where the Speaking Bobcats placed second, behind Western Kentucky and in front of Creighton University. With these two tournaments completed, the Speaking Bobcats will take a few weeks off for the Winter Break before getting back into action in January.

Please join me in congratulating these hard working students on their most recent success.
